

Services and Pricing

To post a job on Fabtech Jobs (www.semiconductorjob.org) simply purchase a premium or basic credit online. Credits can be purchased in bulk and have a year's life span before they expire. At any time within that year you can use a credit to post a job. Each job post will remain on the site for 60 days from posting. Jobs posted will appear instantaneously.

When you become a registered employer with Fabtech Jobs you will have your own administration page where you can view, post, disable and track your jobs as well as purchase additional credits.

Fabtech Jobs will drive traffic from its parent site www.fabtech.org, sister site www.pv-tech.org as well as advertising through Google Adwords, on weekly electronic newsletters and through partner sites such as semi.org and the MEMS industry group. The Fabtech Jobs site has been built to optimize hits driven from search engines like Google.

This makes the site ideal for filling semiconductor and photovoltaic manufacturing positions world wide.

Basic Job Credits

A basic job credit on Fabtech Jobs is a cost-effective way to advertise your technical positions to the Semiconductor Industry. Features include: one line of text description in search results, response mechanism via application URL or email, individual page for each job maximising Google and Yahoo searches, view job preview to see how your job looks, jobs are active immediately after uploading is complete.

Featured Recruiter Advertising

Available in monthly, quarterly and annual bundles becoming a Featured Recruiter allows you to post an unlimited number of premium jobs for the duration of your campaign. You will enjoy greater exposure throughout the website with a rotating tile banner (120 pixels by 120 pixels) on EVERY page of the Fabtech Jobs site. Provide your choice of introduction to your company (max. 500 words) on your very own micro-site that will consolidate all your job posts in one exclusive place for further browsing.

Enjoy additional exposure as we post one of your jobs as a link on the home page of www.fabtech.org.

To become a Featured Recruiter or for bulk purchases of job credits, contact Graham Davie either by e-mail (gdavie@fabtech.org) or telephone (+44 (0) 2078 710123) to discuss your options.
